Did you know – the first 1,001 days of your baby's life (even from when mum gets pregnant) are one of the most important times for your baby's life-long health, wellbeing and development?

During pregnancy

Through birth and baby's first year

Up to age 2

Family Hubs and Start for Life brings together the support available to families.

Start for Life provides extra support to families to improve children's lives, especially during the first 1,001 days.

What is a Family Hub?

Family Hubs are our network of support for families.

This includes places where you can attend appointments, meet with staff for a chat, or take part in courses and activities.

It also includes advice and information available in other ways (e.g. online) from organisations that help with family life.

Our Family Hubs support families with children and young people aged up to 19 (24 with SEND) and at every stage of family life.

Extra help through Start for Life will include support for:

- Mental wellbeing before and after your baby is born
- Helping you build a good relationship with your baby
- Supporting you to get through everyday parenting challenges
- Helping you with feeding your baby
- The first stages of learning to talk and other important childhood skills
- Involving families in decisions about services
- Making information easier to find
